Miss Gallagher, and Miss Heffner.

STILL GOING

The Trial Of New Matthews Drags
On In An Uninteresting Manner.

The case of New Matthews still occupies Judge Wallball's court. The testimony given today was uninteresting, and was mostly a recapitulation of that yesterday. Matthews was placed on the stand and testified that he and Hunter had been the best of friends up to the time before the killing.
He claims that he shot in self defense and that Hunter was in the act of drawing a knife on him when he shot.

He denies shooting at Hunter a second time but says that the second shot was for the purpose of frightening the man.

Matthews also admitted that he had been under indictment for shooting at two men before this trouble came up.
He was first indicted in Houston and was acquitted and then in San Antonio where the case was dismissed for lack of evidence.

Hunter's wife was placed on the stand. She said that her husband had never made threats against the life of Matthews and she knew no reason that would cause Matthews fear Hunter.

CHARGED WITH BURGLARY

Arrest of Porfirio Rascon a Clever Piece of Police Work.

Porfirio Rascon, a young Mexican, was yesterday arrested by officer Harold and lodged in the city jail charged with burglary. Rascon, at the time of his arrest, was fully dressed in clothing identified by Max Schatz as a portion of that taken from his store by burglars, some ten days ago.

A search warrant served by Officer Harold revealed a quantity of the stolen stuff, packed away at the home of Rascon's relatives, near the G.
H. round house. The prisoner made to the officers a partial confession implicating several of his comrades, and last night at eleven o'clock Officers Harold, Denniston, and Scott arrested on the Mexican Central tracks, near the bridge, Ambrosio Rivas, Jose Morales and Eulalio Morales, and lodged them in jail.

Two the prisoners were wearing some of the Schutz clothing, and one of them, when searched, was found to be well supplied with keys of different sizes and patterns.

The prisoners are all young men, ranging in ages 18 to 21 years, and the officers believe that they have caught the pupils of a dangerous gang of crooks, who have been operating in El Paso for the past few months.

Warrants were sworn out today, and the alleged crooks turned over to Sheriff Boone.

Rascon is an ex convict, having just returned from enforced seclusion at the state's prison, and his arrest was a clever piece of police work.
